CIRCULAR

No. RD 136 LRM 74, BANGALORE, DATED 18TH JULY 1974.

Instructions were issued in Circular No. RD 107 LRM 72, dated 17th July 1972 detailing the measures required to be taken by the Tahsildars in determining the surplus land (i. e. in excess of the ceiling) under the then prevalent Land Reforms Law. The law has since been substantially amended with effect from 1st March 1974 particularly with regard to the ceiling limit. As against the then ceiling limit ranging from 27 acres of 1st class of land to 216 acres of VIIth class of land for a person or a family, the ceiling limit now perscribed under the amended law is 10 acres of 'A' class of land to 54 acres of 'D' class of land. Under Section 66 of the Land Reforms Act as amended by the Ordinance promulgated on 29th May 1974, the time for filing the declarations has been extended by 90 days. That Ordinance also provides for the declarations being filed by persons owning.

(i) 10 acres or more of lands having facilities for irrigation from a source of water belonging to the State Government ; or.

(ii) 20 acres or more of lands on which paddy crop can be grown with the help of rain water ; or

(iii) 40 acres or more of lands classified as dry but not having any irrigation facilities from a source of water belonging to the State Government ; and also of declaring that where a person holds more than one category of land, the extent held by him shall be converted into a single category on the basis of the following equivalence, namely—

(a) one acre of land referred to in category (i) ;

(b) being equal to two acres of land referred to in category (ii) ;

(c) being equal to four acres of land referred to in category (iii) ;
